Kate interviews Trent Roberts

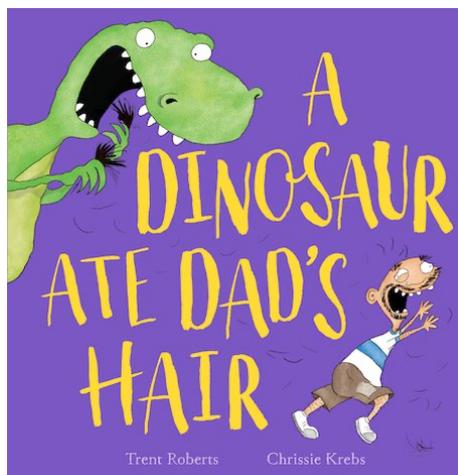

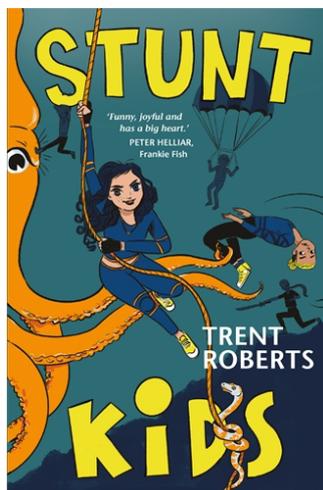

Trent Roberts is a screenwriter and author who lives in the western suburbs of Melbourne with his partner, two kidlets and French bulldog, Ziggy. He loves the ocean, weird animals, indie pop and choc-tops. While he can't do any of the stunts described in his book, he can do a half-decent forward roll and, in perfect conditions, remain upright on his surfboard for a few seconds.

On Our Radar

On Kate's radar is a new campaign, backed by the American Library Association, called Unite Against Book Bans. Attempts to ban books from libraries are rising at an unprecedented level in the USA. The American Library Association reported more than 729 attempted bans of 1,597 individual books in 2021 alone. If you'd like to support the campaign to keep great books on library shelves, visit the website at www.uniteagainstbookbans.org where you can make a donation or find great social media resources.

Competition Details

This episode, thanks to our SUPER generous friends at Pan Macmillan, we're giving away a mammoth prize pack including, Stunt Kids by today's guest Trent Roberts plus How to Spell Catastrophe by Fiona Wood, Maku by Meyne Wyatt, When Granny Came to Stay by Alice Pung and Treehouse Tales by Andy Griffiths & Terry Denton.

Head to our WIN page and simply tell us about your greatest stunt ever.

Enter your answer (or ask a parent to) by 5pm Tuesday 19 July to be in the running.

Thanks

To illustrators Ramona Davey and Marianne Khoo for all our wonderful One More Page images.

And to our sound editor Adam Orlowski for his wonderful audio genius - check out his other work at www.aosd.tk
